

Do you have a legal problem but are unable to afford advice?

Clarkson Wright & Jakes LLP, in association with the charity LawWorks, has set up an Advice Clinic offering FREE, confidential, general legal advice to those who cannot afford to pay for legal advice but who do not qualify for legal aid.

How does it work?

The Advice Clinic offers FREE one-off legal advice and assistance either by appointment at our offices or by telephone.

Call 0800 1959 130 (freephone) & ask for the “Advice Clinic”

We will ask you to provide us with the basic details of your problem so we can assess the issues and either offer advice or suggest further action you can take.

The Advice Clinic is run by our Trainee Solicitors.

What areas of law can we help with?

- Debt recovery and bankruptcy
- Basic contract claims
- Advice to tenants
- Family matters
- Advice to employees
- Consumer and small claims

What happens if you need more help?

We are only able to offer a maximum of 45 minutes free advice for each caller. If we are unable to assist, we will try to give you details of other legal services should you need them.

Please note, we cannot take on a case or provide representation, and this service is not suitable for urgent matters. The Advice Clinic may not be able to provide advice to all callers.

Clarkson Wright & Jakes LLP is a member of LawWorks, the operating name of the Solicitors Pro Bono Group. LawWorks aims to increase the delivery of free legal advice to individuals and communities in need by supporting, promoting and encouraging a commitment to pro bono across the solicitors' profession. Clarkson Wright & Jakes LLP is a signatory to the Pro Bono Protocol, which sets minimum standards for the conduct of pro bono advice.
